WORDS FROM THE SHIRE PRESIDENT

Hi to you all,

Well the first six months of the year has passed and winter is truly upon us. The Shire is hoping that a great season and good crops will be here in the coming months, with this consistent flow of rainfall.

The first six months of this year has seen change at the Shire, with Mike and his team doing some great works around the Shire. You may noticed the progress to some roads and the town. Thank you Mike for such a great effort you and the team are achieving.

It's great for the Shire to receive the community feedback as the Shire has commenced tree pruning. It's good to hear such good positivity around the Shire this year.

The Shire will be hosting the Bloom Festival Event on 22nd September 2023 at the Woodanilling Town Hall. With local residents and artists providing the backdrop for hosting this event. We encourage you all to book online-
<https://humanitix.com/au/search?locationQuery=Woodanilling>

As most of you are aware the Woodanilling Post Office and General Store closed for a number of days. The Shire has manged work with Australia Post and Roger & Jill on being able to support limited opening hours. We wish Roger & Jill all the best in Jill's recovery.

The Shire would also like to thank Top Spec Maintenance for the work completed on the Men's Shed roof.

Cr Stephen Jefferies
Shire President

WORDS FROM THE CEO

It's that time of year when we gather the achievements over the last 12 months and commence planning the 2023/2024 Annual Budget. The Shire hopes to adopt the budget in August 2023.

Council is working on the final draft this coming week which will provide for another busy year with roads, infrastructure, some community engagement sessions and upgrades around the town.

I am thankful to have had a staff member to be able to support the post office opening hours. It is great to see how having this asset still opening to support you all. We must thank the Katanning Post Office for their assistance in the short term.

The Shire of Woodanilling has appointed the Western Australian Electoral Commission (WAEC) to conduct its 2023 Local Government Ordinary Election in October by means of postal voting.

And for the first time, as part of Tranche 1 of the Local Government Act Reforms optional" preferential voting will be inforce during the election process.

Preferential voting is the same method used in state and federal elections. Optional preferential voting means you are not required to provide all preferences in casting your vote.

The WAEC will be holding information sessions in the coming months and will commence the process. The Shire understands that 3 vacancy seats will be open. Should you wish to discuss this, please do not hesitate to pop in and see me on this.

The Shire recently engaged a consultant to commence the Community Plan and Corporate Business Plan. Details will following in the coming months on these sessions.

Chief Executive Officer
Kellie Bartley

SHIRE NOTES

The Shire of Woodanilling has now the ability to accept all payments through BPAY for rates and invoices.

You can pay your bill directly from your bank account, either by phone or online. If you're not already set up for Internet and phone banking, contact your bank.

To make your payment, you'll need the biller code number which is 411553 and BPAY reference number shown on your bill's payment slip. Using the right BPAY reference number ensures we credit your account on time so check you have your up-to-date BPAY reference number before paying.

WE NEED YOU!

Expression of interest for Woodanilling residents to exhibit their arts and crafts at the Shire of Woodanilling art exhibition to be held in the town hall from the 23rd of September 2023. This will be run during the Bloom Festival.

For further information and to register your interest please contact Sue Dowson and the Shire of Woodanilling on 9823 1506

Notice to Residents

Local Government Reform and the October 2023 Local Government Elections

Dear Resident,

As the new Local Government Minister, I am honoured to oversee the implementation of the Government's major reforms of the local government sector, the most significant in 25 years. At the heart of these reforms is our aim of increasing the transparency, accountability and efficiency of local government in WA.

Some changes will be introduced at the upcoming October local government elections which will give ratepayers a greater say on who they elect to represent them on council. All electors will need to be aware of these changes when casting their vote.

One important change is the switch to Optional Preferential Voting (OPV). This will bring local government elections in line with state and federal government elections. Under OPV you will be able to choose one or more candidates by numbering them in order of your preference.

For many smaller councils, reforms will also see changes to council representation, with the removal of wards and standardisation of the number of councillors aligned to the population of the districts they serve.

These changes will strengthen local democracy and give ratepayers a greater choice of candidates. As a result, the reforms will increase community confidence in local government and make councils more representative and responsive to ratepayers' needs.

For 12 years, I served as a councillor and later as Deputy Mayor at the City of Stirling so I have first-hand experience and an appreciation of the importance of local government and how it impacts the lives of residents in many ways. So it is vital that people get involved in their local government, either by nominating to be a community representative or by voting to have a say on who represents you on council.

You can find more information on the reforms to the local government sector on the DLGSC website at www.dlgsc.wa.gov.au/lg-act-reform or use the QR code.

Local Government Minister

Local Government Reform

Voting in the October 2023 Local Government Elections

The State Government is putting into action the most significant reforms to the local government sector in 25 years. The reforms will increase the transparency, accountability and efficiency of local government in WA.

One of the key reforms is the change from 'first past the post' system of voting to optional preferential voting (OPV).

This change will be introduced for the October 2023 local government elections which will now be in line with state and federal elections.

OPV will strengthen democracy by giving ratepayers a greater choice of candidates.

You can find more information about the reforms to the local government sector on the DLGSC website at www.dlgsc.wa.gov.au/lg-act-reform or use this QR code.

How to vote under the optional preferential voting system

It is really easy and it is all about choices – your choices. Just imagine there are three candidates. You can:

1 Vote for just one candidate

Just put a number 1 next to the name of that candidate.

- SMITH, John
- 1 DOE, Jane
- CITIZEN, Neville

2 Vote for some

Just put a 1 next to the name of the candidate you like best and a 2 next to your second choice.

- SMITH, John
- 1 DOE, Jane
- 2 CITIZEN, Neville

3 Vote for all

Put a 1 in the box for the candidate you like best and then a 2 for your second choice and a 3 for your third choice. If there are more candidates you just keep numbering if you want.

- 3 SMITH, John
- 1 DOE, Jane
- 2 CITIZEN, Neville

DON'T LET YOUR DEVICE ~~TAKE OVER YOUR LIFE~~

The number of home fires caused by batteries, powerpacks and chargers has increased dramatically.
Avoid your device becoming a hazard:

- ✓ Only buy from reputable brands and suppliers.
- ✓ Only use batteries and chargers designed for the device.
- ✓ Don't use damaged or dented equipment.
- ✓ Don't charge devices on a flammable surface such as bedding, couches, carpets or clothing.
- ✓ Don't leave batteries or devices in direct sunlight or hot vehicles. They should be kept between 5°C and 20°C.
- ✓ Don't overcharge your battery. Batteries that continue to charge once at 100% capacity can cause fires.
- ✓ Dispose of batteries appropriately as they can ignite if disposed of in general waste.

Birds on Farms

For the farmers

Most of us would be aware of birds we see from time to time around the farm, but do you know what species you have on your land? Any important habitat? Nesting sites?

Birdlife WA is keen to answer those questions across Wheatbelt farms. Nationally the numbers of woodland birds are decreasing and many of those species are found in agricultural regions, so Birdlife Australia has started a program to try to get a true idea of our local bird populations.

We are working with Birdlife WA to find farms where birdwatching surveys can be undertaken regularly across several years. You don't have to be a 'birdo' to get involved, land owners are encouraged to take part, but if you can't, we can source dedicated birdwatchers to survey your farm and provide you with the data.

For the bird enthusiasts

As part of the program, we are also seeking volunteers who would like to get involved in surveying. We invite community members, whether you are experienced bird watchers or not, to come along to our Birds on Farms workshop to learn how to undertake surveys and get involved in updating national records for our woodland bird species.

We are hosting a Birds on Farms workshop in our office Sat, 16th Sept which will cover the birds on farms program and follow on with a site visit where we go through the process of a survey and how to fill out the data.

There will also be 3 webinars available which you can register for to accompany the program.

You can register your interest with Gen at the office for either a birdwatching role or a farm location (or both!) and be sure to keep an eye out for updates on the webinar series and event coming on the 16th Sept

Carbon Farming Information Session

Most of us have heard of 'carbon farming' over the last few years but up until now there hasn't been a blue print for how to go about it.

We hosted a workshop in Woodanilling on 27th June 2023 where the DPIRD Carbon Futures team came and provided some detailed information for landholders on how carbon farming is structured and the steps needed to get involved.

There is terminology like off-setting for emissions, in-setting on farm to achieve carbon neutral status, ACCU's (Australian Carbon Credit Units), carbon accounting and a whole range of jargon.

To be eligible for a carbon farming project, your activity must be NEW to your current daily operation, for example you can't use soil carbon sequestration from perennial pastures you have been utilising for years, however if you wish to change practices to include perennials, this may be an option for you. Carbon farming does include trees, both biodiverse and plantation, but it is also about soil carbon.

You will need to undertake a land management strategy. This document is to register with the Clean Energy Regulator (CER), work out the activities, what they will cost, what risks and how it will be maintained for minimum 25 years, identify your carbon estimation areas and account for your emissions from your farm business. The DPIRD staff are on hand to assist you with this step.

There are a number of things a landowner needs to do to get involved and this is what the Carbon Futures team at DPIRD are created to do.

PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS

Semester One, 2023, has come to a successful close. Earlier in Term Two the Director General of the Department of Education accepted another term of employment and it is really exciting that the changes she has implemented will be continuing to increase high quality education for the children of Western Australia. Our new Woodanilling Primary School Strategic Plan is aligned to this, and our team is excited to be working toward implementing these new strategies.

Students in year Three and Four attended the Dockers Shield Football Carnival and played in every game to the best of their ability with the combined Dumbleyung and Katanning team. I had the privilege of watching the girls' team and they played really well and improved their skill as they progressed throughout the day. They came equal third in the competition of six teams. The boys had a very competitive competition and placed last; however, Robert Murray was selected by the team as 'Best Player on Ground' and was presented with a football. Congratulations to all those who participated. Thanks must go to Paul Reid, RFS Wheatbelt, West Australian Football Commission who organised the event and set up the oval in the morning, so it was ready for all teams to play.

Katanning Senior High School students umpired the games, and they were amazing and ensured the day ran successfully. They also supported the children to grow their skills and confidence.

Digital Technology use is a key part of 21st Century learning and at Woodanilling we offer one-to-one iPads and computer use to ensure children are progressing their skills. We have looked at our budget and decided to add more technologies. Next term we will be invaded by new robots! Let's hope it is fun and exciting.

Enjoy the holidays and I look forward to all our students coming back refreshed and ready for more learning experiences.

The Woodanilling Men Shed

Well winter as we all know has truly arrived. The wet is not a large problem but as you will find as you get older the constant day after day of cold weather has a large effect on the bones. It's no good to complain though because we can't change it and after all it's good for the cherry trees and other fruit and vegetables that need frosty conditions.

We have completed the build of a large spit for outdoor cooking and we have moved into a phase of road test to ensure its viability. Again this is taking time because of serious weather delays. No one wants to stand out in the cold at this time.

WHAT ARE MENS SHEDS

Men's Shed provide a place where men can feel included and welcome, where they can work on their own projects, learn new skills, create and maintain friendships.

You don't have to be a regular visitor, you don't even have to like woodwork.

Inside Sheds you'll find a range of activities. Being a small Shed our activities are limited but only limited by someone wanting to do whatever it is.

Remember Loneliness can be more dangerous than obesity, and be as damaging to your health as smoking 15 cigarettes a day

Finally we would like to thank the Shire and you the Ratepayers for our new roof. We can finally look up and not see the sky through the rust and pin holes. Thank you.

You can contact us at the Shed or by phone;

WOODANILLING CWA

CWA is looking for an upgrade with our recent application for a grant to put in a reverse cycle air conditioner, a hot water system and repair back and front steps. Our fingers are crossed as these upgrades will improve the safety and ambiance of the cottage which now is the fortnightly home to Woodanilling Playgroup. We had a lovely time on Monday playing with clay - making shapes. Just quietly, I think the Mums had just as much fun as the kids! No doubt we all are praying for rain to water gardens, fill tanks and obviously to put in crops so cheers for a wet July!

Woodanilling CWA is a proud and active women's organization working to improve the welfare and wellbeing of people.

CWA is open for women of all ages and provides friendship, fun, support, community service and personal development.

We would love more of the local young women of Woodanilling to join us, you are the future.

Please contact Pauline on 0439 922 311 or Barb on 0417 180 361 for more information on how to join.

COULD YOU BE A COMMUNITY PARENT VOLUNTEER?

It takes a village to raise a child. Join our village as a Community Parent Volunteer and help a mum or dad in your area become more confident, feel supported and connected in their community.

If you have experience in a parenting role, can spare about 2 hours each week for a minimum of 6 months, and would like to extend support and friendship to local families, we'd like to hear from you!

Find out more about our new volunteer training coming soon!
